

AS SEEN IN THE APRIL 2010

WINE ENTHUSIAST
MAGAZINE

BUYING GUIDE

93 Cadre 2007 The Architects Pinot Noir (Central Coast); $55. The “architects” name refers to the four vineyards that constitute the blend: Laetitia, La Encantada, Firepeak and Bien Nacido. The wine’s purity is proof that a great Pinot does not have to come from a single vineyard. It’s bone dry and full-bodied in tannins, with complex flavors of black cherries, red currants, Dr. Pepper cola and exotic Asian spices. It was raised in one-year old oak, which gives smoky vanilla and caramel notes, in just the right proportion, to the fruit.